

CRICKET VICTORIA COVID-19 UPDATE (May 20, 2020)

AFL Victoria discussions

The AFL Vic discussions have concluded today and we are now updating the State Government to make sure they are ok with the outcome of these discussions. A media release is being drafted for release this Friday. This will not go out after we have updated you – you will have the agreement details and media release before it goes up on our website and hits the media. Whilst we still need the State Government endorsement, if all goes well, the final agreement will look very similar to the recent draft that you saw which is pleasing. Stay tuned on the detail which will come to you on Friday morning. As a reminder, don't advise this to your network until it is all confirmed. If asked, you can say that an announcement is likely to be made on Friday. Thanks again for your input through the process.

Return to Play / Train guidelines

As you know we have updated you along the way with COVID-19 updates and information from the State Government as it comes to hand. The latest information is on the home page of the CV website - <https://www.cricketvictoria.com.au/state-government-return-to-play-advice/>. Further to this, the latest tasks have included a submission to SRV as required by SSO's about what return to play looks like. We are also drafting up a high level guide that can be shared with your network. The main group interested this week and next week will be those playing in outdoor winter comps. Stay tuned for this – hopefully I can get a draft to you by the weekend. If we feel adjustments are required when you see it, we can tweak it before the official release.
