A teacher specific program providing theoretical and practical information on coaching via Game Sense activities including cooperative games, striking and fielding games, net court games, invasion games, playing for life resource and planning and practical appraisal.

The program aims to integrate activities from three different sporting codes [AFL/Cricket/Netball] and highlight the similarities between game sense activities across the 3 sports and the effective teaching of interchangeable skills.

Participants will address: Key stages of development of primary school-aged children and their implications for teachers; development of sport specific skills; developing effective communication strategies in the sporting environment; facilitating games and activities that engage students of different ages and abilities.
